OFFICE OF CATHOLIC EDUCATION

January 14, 2011

Dear Parents and Guardians:

Our number one priority has been, and always will be, offering a superior academic and spiritual education to our students that respects and reflects the selfless investment you make to provide a Catholic education for your son or daughter.

As we continue this mission, operating needs require us to increase tuition for the 2011-2012 school year by $250 to $5,600. Please note that the supplemental tuition paid by students who do not have parish support will increase to $1,150 for the 2011-2012 school year. The basic tuition charge for those students will be $6,750.

As always, families with three or more children will continue to receive discounted parental tuition, as noted on the enclosed schedule. We will also continue to offer assistance to our families in need who apply and qualify through our Tuition Assistance Program.

The Archdiocese of Philadelphia continues to charge one of the lowest tuitions for privately funded high schools operating anywhere in the United States. We will continue our long-standing tradition of fiscal discipline and moderate yearly tuition increases that maximize and respect the significant investment you make when choosing a Catholic education for your child.

We are pleased to report the Class of 2010 received more than $262 million in scholarships earned – an all-time high record for college scholarships awarded to students across the Archdiocese. More than 4,600 seniors graduated, and 95% of these students will further their high school education at colleges and universities or other post-secondary school institutions. We hope you agree that these positive results, coupled with the spiritual development offered at Archdiocesan high schools, underscore the benefits of the financial sacrifices you make for your son(s) and/or daughter(s).

On behalf of the Archdiocese of Philadelphia and the Office of Catholic Education, please accept my gratitude for your continued confidence in our schools and the lifelong value that a Catholic education provides.

Sincerely,

Dr. Richard McCarron
Secretary for Catholic Education
